B25 CRASHES IN 'UNAUTHORIZED FLIGHT'

Potential Lovers Named By Sheppard Checked Out as Murder Suspects

Surgeon Names Three as Possible Slayers of Wife

CLEVELAND (AP)—The three potential lovers that Marilyn Sheppard "spurned"—according to her husband's story—have been "checked out" as suspects in her slaying, a prosecution staff member said today.

Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard named them to police as "possible" slayers, if they had been the kind of person who becomes maniacal and under compulsion of a sexual urge does violence to the object of his affection.

The osteopath-surgeon said that his wife had "spurned" lovers, potential lovers—three that I know of. I am certain there were more.

That theory, advanced in his own defense, was part of a statement Dr. Sheppard gave police six days after his wife was bludgeoned to death last July 4. The statement was read to the jury Friday, winding up three weeks of actual trial on a sensational note.

The most telling week for the state, which is trying to send the 30-year-old brain surgeon to the electric chair, has been this last one. But the defense has not even started to present its case yet. Its chance will come in two weeks or more.

The state's two big surprise blows were landed by a crisp little man named Samuel R. Gerber, Cleveland's veteran coroner. When he began testifying, the "Sheppard case" immediately became the "pillow case."

Dr. Gerber testified that an imprint on a blood stain on the slain woman's pillow is, in his expert opinion, that of a two-bladed surgical instrument. The state contends Mrs. Sheppard's surgeon-husband killed her because they quarreled about his extra-marital adventures.

The defense contends an intruder, a burglar or a narcotics-crazed addict who took morphine from the doctor's bag, killed her. But Dr. Gerber, in his second surprise, dampened the burglar theory with testimony that the slain woman's wristwatch was not removed from her wrist until the blood had dried under the band—a process that takes at least 15 to 20 minutes.

The state's second big gun so far has been Homicide Detective Robert F. Schottke, who after an intensive six hours of investigation on the murder day went to Dr. Sheppard and said: "In my opinion you are the one who killed your wife."

Discrepancies Cited

The Schottke testimony, given Friday, showed a series of apparent discrepancies in the stories Dr. Sheppard told. For instance, Schottke testified that at 11 a. m. on the murder day Dr. Sam told him he believed two intruders were in his wife's room when he went in and was knocked out.

But two hours earlier, according to Dr. Gerber, Dr. Sam had said he saw "a form and was knocked out at the top of the stairs."

In the matter of the "form" he grappled with upstairs and on the beach, Dr. Sheppard, according to testimony, told stories that varied from describing it as a sort of phantom, whose clothes and sex he could not make out, to saying it was probably a tall, heavy, dark-complexioned white man with bushy hair and dark clothing.

In the matter of his wristwatch, Dr. Sheppard explained the blood on it by saying he took his wife's pulse at the neck after recovering from being knocked out, but in earlier accounts he just said "without mentioning any pulse-taking. The water under his watch crystal he said, variously, came from water skiing, a golf game, and sports car-riding in the rain."

Death Takes Luke Barnhill

Luke Barnhill

Luke Barnhill, well-known Harrisburg real estate dealer, and former city police commissioner, died at 9:30 a. m. today at his residence on East Poplar. Death was due to a heart condition.

Mr. Barnhill's brother, Paul, said that he had planned to go hunting today, and that they had discussed together last night plans for the trip. He was in excellent spirits and as well as usual at that time.

He is survived by his wife, Mary, two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Watson, St. Louis, and Mrs. Sarah Alfultis, Oran, Mo., and the brothers, Paul Barnhill, who operates Barnhill's market in this city, and Russell Barnhill, Chicago.

The body is now at the Gibbons funeral home and further information will be given in Monday's Register.

Believe Stratton, Castle, Drach Wanted as Character Witnesses in Dale Trial

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton and two other top Illinois officials said today they were mystified by subpoenas ordering them to testify at an atomic labor racketeering trial.

Defense attorneys have summoned Stratton, Atty. Gen. Latham Castle and state Senate Majority Leader George E. Drach to show up at East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 30 for the federal trial of two union officials.

The officials are accused of trying to extort $1,021,000 in 1951 from contractors building the huge multi-million dollar steam power plant at Jopka, Ill., to serve the Paducah, Ky., atomic energy plant.

The defendants are Evan Dale, Carbondale, Ill., a leader in the AFL Common Laborers union, and James Bateman, AFL Plumbers and Pipefitters union leader from Murphysboro, Ill.

Stratton, Castle and Drach said they were acquainted slightly with Dale, but they had no idea why they were wanted for the trial.

No Reason Given

There was speculation they were wanted as character witnesses, despite their nodding acquaintance with the defendant. But defense lawyers have steadfastly refused to shed any light.

"The reasons will be brought out at the trial," East St. Louis lawyer James W. McRoberts, who issued the subpoenas, said.

Dale said, "I don't know anything about it."

Dale has dabbled in southern Illinois Republican politics, and Stratton and Castle met him while campaigning for office in 1952.

A process server stopped in Thursday during Stratton's "open house," when he devotes his day to talking to the "man on the street."

Drach got his at his law offices the same day. Castle was out of town, but a constable turned up with a subpoena for him when he returned to his office in the Illinois Supreme Court Building Friday.

Castle said that while his office had been studying lawbooks on the matter, he wasn't giving Stratton a formal opinion on it.

"I did tell him I thought a subpoena issued by federal court is good," Castle said, "but that they certainly ought to show him the courtesy of taking his deposition."

He recalled that former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson once gave a deposition in the federal trial of Alger Hiss. But Stevenson didn't get a subpoena, though his staff said he probably would have received one had he not given the deposition.

Sen. Morse Sees Filibuster by McCarthy Forces

Dirksen Seeks to Line Up Support For Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Wayne Morse said today the recess of the Senate debate on the motion to censure Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) has "killed the chance for compromise."

The Oregon independent also said he is convinced "pro-McCarthy" forces will adopt "dilatatory tactics" to prevent the censure move from coming to a vote.

The Senate recessed debate on the censure issue when McCarthy entered the Bethesda Naval Hospital for treatment of an elbow injury suffered when his arm struck a glass-top table as he was shaking hands with an over-enthusiastic admirer. The Senate will reconvene Nov. 29.

Convinced that McCarthy forces will try to filibuster the censure attempt to death, Morse believes other senators will prevent such a talkathon from succeeding.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) disavowed any attempt at filibuster.

He was trying during the recess to line up more support for a compromise plan which he plans to introduce when the Senate reconvenes. Dirksen has not revealed details of the compromise, but it was understood to be a statement not mentioning McCarthy by name but warning senators generally about their future conduct.

Morse said in an interview he was "satisfied that there is a group of pro-McCarthy senators who will not hesitate to adopt dilatatory tactics to prevent a vote if they can get by with it. But I believe they will be blocked in the attempt."

"The Senate owes a moral responsibility to the American people to adopt whatever parliamentary procedures are necessary—in fairness to all concerned—which will require a vote by Dec. 24 (the day the special session must adjourn)."

Army Officer Found Guilty, Plans Appeal

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—An appeal to the Pentagon or possibly to the secretary of the Army was planned today for a lieutenant convicted and sentenced to dismissal from service for mistreating his troops.

The conviction by a general court martial Friday was subject to automatic review but his counsel, Maj. William B. Carne, said he would petition to highest authority if necessary.

Anderson, who insisted "rough" disciplinary methods were necessary to "shape up" an unruly company of trainees in the short time allowed, was sentenced "to be dismissed from service and to forfeit all pay and allowances."

The 10-man court found Anderson guilty on six counts of mistreating his men, four of conduct unbecoming an officer and one of conduct prejudicial to good order. He was acquitted of six other counts.

While he was spared the possible year of imprisonment for each count of guilt, the sentence amounted virtually to a dishonorable discharge for the 24-year-old veteran of Korean battles.

Anderson was the second officer in modern U. S. military history to be convicted of abusing his men. Carne said Anderson's case was "unique" in that it involved "over aggressiveness in training."

"Most other cases involve prosecution for lack of aggressiveness," Carne said.

Man Officially Dead for 10 Years Shows Up, Wife Refuses to Let Him in House

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—James Martin, officially "dead" for 10 years, wanted to go home to his "widow" today but she was so upset on hearing he is alive that she refused to let him enter.

Martin, 59, came back to Scotland from London after learning that Mrs. Martin was attempting to collect money from some of his pre-war investments.

He disappeared from Bramely, near Winchester, in 1944 during a Nazi air raid.

"I was working for the United States Army as a security guard in a camp near London one night when there was an air raid," Martin said. "I decided not to go home and my wife must have decided I was dead."

"For two weeks I slept in parks and air raid shelters. Bombing was going on all the time. Maybe my

West Firm Against India Proposal for Open Membership in A-Peace Agency

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Western powers stood firm today against an Indian-led small nation demand for unlimited representation on the agency to govern President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace plan.

The small nation "rebellion" was led by Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna Menon who asked open membership in the international atomic energy agency to "member states able and willing to participate."

His resolution, rejected by the Western powers, drew support from Latin America. It was believed there would be extended debate on the Indian resolution in the U. N.'s Main Political Committee Monday.

The West had hoped to vote Friday on the Eisenhower plan and a near unanimous vote was predicted. However debate is expected to last much of Monday with a last minute demand from a dozen delegates.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. was one of the first to speak out against the Indian proposal. He said the Indian amendment could lead to an unworkable agency of 60 or more members.

"We have made it plain several times that we are opposed to such an amendment," Lodge said. "It would jeopardize or destroy the whole proposition."

Lodge was backed by British Minister of State Anthony Nutting who said there was nothing in the plan to prevent any country from opening negotiations to become a member of the international agency. But he ruled out the possibility of mass membership or multi-lateral negotiations.

Furniture Firm's Employees Given Choice of Gifts

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The 5,000 employees of the Kroehler Furniture Making Company were telling their bosses what they want for Christmas today. And the company promised to get it for them.

The company, which has plants throughout the nation, plans to spend $300,000 in playing Santa Claus for its employees.

All the workers have to do is write on a "gift certificate" what they'd like for Christmas. On the day before Christmas they'll get their wishes, along with a free lunch.

The employees have about 50 gifts to choose from, averaging in value from $75 to $85. They include bicycles, electric appliances, clothing, furniture, made to order bowling balls and left-handed golf clubs.

If the worker prefers, he can ask for two cheap gifts.

A 1949 Mercury sedan, driven by Kenneth Ragsdale, RFD 2, Galatia, was a total loss as the result of an accident on Rt. 45 near the Venice club Thursday night. Patrolman Adolph Sweat reported today. Sweat stated the automobile left the highway and rolled over. The accident occurred about 9:10 p. m. Thursday, just after the rain started falling and the highway was wet.

Gene Weise, 400 East Locust, Harrisburg, was in the car with Ragsdale. Both were treated at the Harrisburg hospital for bruises and released.

One Dead, 112 Hurt In Mine Accidents in Illinois During October

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Accidents in Illinois coal mines caused one death and 112 injuries during October, B. H. Schull, director of the Department of Mines and Minerals, said today.

The fatal accident, caused by a rib fall in a Saline county mine, brought the 1954 fatality total to 20. The 112 non-fatal accidents in October brought the year's mine injury total to 871.

With October production totaling 3,710,761 tons, production per fatality was 3,710,761 tons and tonnage per non-fatal accident was 33,132.

Air Force Says It Appears Only One Man Aboard

Plane Taken from Keesler Base Crashes In Gulf of Mexico

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—An Air Force B25 light bomber, taken on an "unauthorized flight" from Keesler Air Force Base here, crashed into the Gulf of Mexico a few hundred yards off-shore here Friday night and the Air Force said today it appeared that only one man was aboard.

The identity of the man, apparently killed in the crash, was not known. There was no indication whether he was a member of the Air Force or a civilian.

An Air Force spokesman said the body had not been located by salvage crews who were going through the wreckage in two feet of water 400 yards off a resort beach.

The Air Force said the plane exploded and the wreckage was scattered over a one-half mile area near the Biloxi lighthouse.

Did Not Clear With Tower

The belief that only one man was aboard, the Air Force said, was based on "evidence at the scene" of the crash and the fact that the plane took off "without clearing with the control tower."

The plane was taken between 10 and 10:30 p. m., only minutes before it roared low over a line of crowded resort hotels facing the gulf and crashed.

The spokesman did not say what "evidence" had been found at the scene to indicate only one man was aboard.

Biloxi police said several persons saw a twin-engine plane flying low over the city just before the crash.

Frank Goodwin, Gainesville, Fla., who is attending a convention here said he heard a plane flying low over the hotel and a few minutes later heard that it had crashed offshore.

Hotel Guests Watch Search

The wreckage was found scattered over a quarter of a mile area of the choppy waters of Biloxi Sound by civilian and Coast Guard planes and Air Force crash boats, the spokesman said.

The main part of the wreckage was believed buried in a mud bar about 400 yards off shore, he said, and equipment was readied to make a salvage attempt at day-break.

He said guests of the Buena Vista Hotel facing the beach and almost directly in front of the crash scene reported to authorities that they either saw or heard the crash at about 10:30 p. m.

A hotel official said a number of guests of the four-story, 206-room resort hotel watched from windows or from an expansive verandah fronting on the beach as the air and surface hunt for the plane got underway.

A small crowd gathered at the water's edge for a time but dispersed in the early morning hours.

Dan Day, 61, Dies Following Heart Attack at Mine

Dan Day, 61, resident of the Ledford community, died yesterday at 11:40 a. m. in the Harrisburg hospital following a heart attack yesterday morning in Sattara 16 mine where he was employed.

He is survived by his wife, Julia; one daughter, Mrs. Vivian Coget, and one son, Ernest Day, all of Harrisburg.

Federal services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Ledford Baptist church. Rev. Otho Williams of Mt. Vernon will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery. The Gibbons funeral home will be in charge.

Palbearers will be Guy Lynch, John Fodor, Leo King, Webb Largent, Audie Lynch and Bob Brunty.

The body now lies in state at the family home.

Test Gov't Operation from 30 Secret Sites

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and top administration officials today tested the capability of the federal government to operate from about 30 secret, widely dispersed sites outside Washington in case of an atomic attack or other emergency.

About 2,000 federal employees, including Cabinet members and agency heads, started leaving here Friday night and early today to reach various secret headquarters as far as 300 miles away.

Their orders directed them to be operating from the emergency sites by 10 a. m.

President Eisenhower planned to talk by telephone or radio, either from his White House desk or his atomic bomb shelter deep below the executive mansion, with key officials about 10:30 a. m.

A White House spokesman said a test of communications was the main feature of this exercise, one of a series in a program to prepare the government to carry on without interruption in event of an atomic or hydrogen bomb attack.

A simulated atomic attack was not involved in this exercise. Most details of the exercise and the planning for such emergency operations were secret. No reporters or news photographers were permitted to cover the dispersal operation.

But a defense mobilization spokesman said all government departments and agencies have been assigned emergency headquarters outside Washington at government facilities, resorts or colleges. All but one agency have moved duplicates of essential records to their designated sites.

A Wise Choice

Editorial — By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Politicians grown accustomed to thinking of the Supreme Court as a kind of perennially green political pastureland must have been disappointed when President Eisenhower named a justice to fill the vacancy left by Associate Justice Jackson's death.

From Franklin D. Roosevelt's day until now, all too many politicians have passed beyond the gates into the election-free paradise of the high court. There even came to be a recognized route of entry.
Anyone elevated to be Attorney General of the United States was considered but a step from the sacred portals.

Mr. Eisenhower shattered this rather unwholesome precedent. His nominee for the tribunal is John Marshall Harlan, judge of the U.
S. Circuit Court of Appeals, a court second only to the Supreme Court in the federal judicial system.

It is true, of course, that Harlan's judicial career encompasses a brief eight months. But behind him is a distinguished record as a lawyer. Most recently he served as counsel to the New York State Crime Commission.

Moreover, Harlan comes from a family of judicial tradition. His grandfather, who bore the same name, was a Supreme Court justice for 34 years.

The President may well have wished originally to choose a man of greater experience on the bench.
But after the long Democratic rule of the White House, there are relatively few Republican judicial prospects young enough to give hope of extended service.

Thus Harlan, 55, with a sound legal background, was a natural for the post despite his brief judgeship.

His appointment, assuming it is confirmed by the Senate, will alter
the political coloration of the Court from the old ratio of seven Democrats and two Republicans to a 6-3 setup. The Republican total includes Chief Justice Earl Warren,
Mr. Eisenhower's first appointee.

The Supreme Court, of course, is not a political body. Yet its members cannot be drawn from a vacuum. Since that is so, it would seem desirable to have the Court reflect a reasonable balance of political views. That will lead many times to a healthy canceling out of prejudices in the making of decisions. A 5-4 line-up would be better, therefore, than 6-3.

So the President may hardly be assailed for having chosen a Republican. Little doubt exists that a Democratic President would name a Democrat. The important thing is that he has wisely tried to give at least a part of the Supreme Court back to the judges.

Perhaps the day has ended when a man with his eye on the Supreme Court will start life as a precinct
captain.

When the Pilgrim fathers set apart a day for thanksgiving after their first harvest in 1621,
they were perpetuating a custom
that dates back even beyond Christianity, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

The ancient Greek philosophers, and the patriarchs of the Old Testament considered that
"the most appropriate offering to God is that of a pure and penitent heart," but also felt that thanksgiving, or "gratitude in praise," was acceptable. The religious idea of thanksgiving is an outgrowth of the ritual of sacrifice.

Among primitive cults sacrifices tend to be interpreted as gifts to the god and food is often given to a god because he is believed to take pleasure in eating. It is probable that among Christians, as among Jews, every meal, and especially every social meal, was regarded as being in some sense a thank-offering.

Thanksgiving Day's traditional turkey played a part in Indian prayer offerings more than a thousand years ago. Certain American Indian tribes kept turkeys in captivity—not for food, but for their feathers, which were plucked from the living bird and burned in prayer offerings to appease the gods. However, although they are native birds, present-day turkeys came to America only after a round trip to Europe. Spaniards sent some of the birds that the Central American Indians had domesticated to Spain in 1519,
and a few years later turkeys reached England. Offspring of these turkeys were brought back to New England by the Pilgrims, forming the flocks whose descendants furnish our holiday birds today.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer
Beef cattle and hogs will make good use of corn left in the fields
during the picking operation. Usually these leavings count up to a sizeable amount. A one-or two strand temporary electric fence can be put up quickly and will keep the animals confined.

Close grazing of meadows and pastures is not recommended in the fall for a month or so before killing frost. The plants need a growth period in which to build up plant food in the root system for vigor in the coming year. However, after a killing frost has stopped top growth alfalfa or other legumes, meadows may be grazed lightly.

The soil's water holding capacity
may be increased by the addition of barnyard manure, green manure and crop residues. The greater the quantity of such organic matter returned to the soil, the more water it can hold for supply to crops during periods of drought.

According to studies, the increased use of fertilizers will reduce soil erosion losses up to as much as 50 percent. Largely this is due to an increase in the quality and quantity of residue organic matter that is returned to the soil
in the form of plant roots and top growth.

November is a month that brings with it many small and large tasks around the farm home in preparation for the winter.

Those who have strawberry patches or fields ought to mulch them with straw sometime during the month. Other mulching material may be used, but straw seems to be the best. It protects without packing down so tightly
as to smother plants.

November is the time to make grape cuttings and to begin trans-planting fruit trees and most kinds of shade trees. It is also the month in which to dig and store tender flower bulbs and corms or to cover them for protection from winter freezing.

A farm marketing specialist at Southern Illinois university says that farmers who expect to buy corn to meet their feeding requirements this year ought to consider purchasing it during the harvest period when the corn price likely will be lowest.

Some farmers in non-drought areas did not stay within their acreage allotments, so the corn produced on those farms is not eligible for price support and loans. Much of this corn will come on the market during the harvest period and may depress
the price to levels considerably below the $1.62 support price. As this harvest is taken off, the market prices will begin rising again.

Heavier Fertilization Recommended

Farm operators who are expecting to build up the potassium and phosphorus levels of their soils will need to apply heavier amounts of potash and phosphate, says Farm Adviser L. B. Kimmel.

Soil scientists at the University of Illinois have upped their potash and superphosphate recommendations to provide for maximum crop yields and at the same time to build up an adequate supply
of those minerals in the soil.

Mr. Kimmel says these changes do not mean that the old recommendations were wrong. Those amounts were sufficient for the level of production on most farms and were considerably larger than many farmers have been willing or able to use.

But they were not sufficient for maximum yields, and they were not large enough to build up an adequate supply of available potassium and phosphorus in the soil.

The Farm Adviser points out the difference in the old and new potash recommendations by using the following example of a soil testing
low in available potassium:

At the old rate, 270 pounds of 60 percent muriate of potash was recommended for a four-year rotation. The revised recommendations, however, call for 400 pounds of the same fertilizer, an increase of 130 pounds an acre.

The revised recommendations for superphosphate call for heavier applications in cases where the superphosphate is to be used to build up the phosphorus level in the soil.

The new recommendations call for 760 pounds of superphosphate
for a four-year rotation on soils that test low in available phosphorus.
Soils that test slight in available phosphorus need 640 pounds of superphosphate an acre.

The recommended amounts of rock phosphate have not been changed. The original recommendations were enough to build up the phosphorus level in the soil and at the same time give top yields of most crops for about 8 to 10 years.

The revised recommendations
are now being made for all soil samples tested in the county soil-testing laboratory. These new recommendations are given in more detail in University of Illinois Circular 724, "Soil Treatment Recommendations Based on Soil Tests."
You can obtain a copy from your farm adviser's office or from the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Illinois Leads Other States in Farm Bureau Members

CHICAGO—Illinois continues to lead all other Farm Bureau states with a record membership of 201-035 farm families enrolled in county Farm Bureaus and the Illinois Agricultural association, it was reported at the IAA's 40th annual meeting this week in the Sherman hotel.

This figure was announced by Cullen B. Sweet, assistant secretary of organization for the Association. He said it enables the IAA to hold its position as the largest state farm organization in the United States.

A net gain of 4,003 members
during the fiscal year was reported by Sweet.

and corn may closely approach the loan rate during the last half of the feeding season.

Don't Put Off Testing Soils

Go ahead and wait until next spring to take your soil samples to the laboratory, just as everybody else does.

Then the laboratory will be snowed under and you'll have to wait only a month or so to find out what your fields need, says Clyde L. Linsley, extension agronomist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Then you'll have a chance to criticize the laboratory for delaying your report until it's too late to apply the needed treatment for legumes next year. And that won't help the legumes a bit, Linsley points out.

To benefit your soil program
and your legumes most, go out and collect soil samples right away from the fields that you plan to seed to legumes next spring. Then you'll have plenty of time this winter to have the samples tested
in the laboratory.

When the report comes back,
you'll have plenty of time to order and apply the recommended limestone, phosphate and potash before seeding. And you'll have the soil test results in time to meet the requirements of the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Ideal Weather Aids Crop Harvest

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Ideal weather has stepped up the finishing stages of the 1954 Illinois harvest.
The State-Federal Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday the weather of the past week helped farmers make "rapid progress" picking corn.

Ninety-five percent has been harvested, almost as much as this time in 1953, when the harvest
was the earliest on record.

The report said soybean combining is nearly completed in northern Illinois and in late fields grown in southwestern counties.

Southern Illinois Agriculture Needs Marketing Study

Southern Illinois agriculture
needs thorough marketing studies
in three fields, says Lee Kolmer, Southern Illinois university marketing specialist and supervisor of adult education in agriculture.

These are: milk, poultry, and fruits and vegetables. Grain and livestock marketing probably also need study, he adds.

Studies of milk marketing should include: (1) Finding new outlets for the Grade A milk produced in the area; (2) Research to determine why people of southern Illinois do not consume more dairy products; (3) Instituting action programs designed to correct the causes of underconsumption of dairy products in the area.

Southern Illinoisans need to investigate the possibilities of improving present methods of egg marketing so that the area's egg producers will have a channel for selling high quality eggs. If increasing broiler production is to continue to expand, he says, there also will need to be an evaluation of present processing methods to determine how these may be improved.

The major problem in fruit and vegetable marketing in southern Illinois is to devise methods by which producers may maintain high quality from the field to the consumer, Kolmer says.

Sen. Gillette Seeks Post In State Dep't

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Lame duck Sen. Guy M. Gillette indicated today he is available for the Eisenhower administration wants to appoint him assistant secretary of state in charge of United Nations affairs.

The 75-year-old Iowa Democrat, who was defeated in his bid for re-election to the new Congress which meets in January, said in an interview:

"Should some such position as that be offered to me, I would, of course, be very much interested in it because of my interest in working for world peace and security."

Gillette made the statement when asked about a press report speculating that he or some other Democrat might be offered such a post to strengthen bipartisan support for administration foreign policy.

He said he had read the report with interest but said no one in the administration has said "anything directly" to him about that possibility.

Administration officials have indicated that should a Democrat be asked to take a key State Department post, he would more likely be named a special Democratic adviser to Secretary John Foster Dulles than an assistant secretary of state specializing in some field of foreign relations.

Democratic congressional leaders have not set up any clamor for formal Democratic representation in high State Department echelons. The present assistant secretary in charge of U. N. affairs is David Kee, 54, a career diplomat who was called out of retirement to take the post only a year ago.

Accuse Trio of Printing Money, Blowing $5,000

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Secret Service accused a Miami brunette and two male companions today of printing $250,000 in counterfeit money and then blowing $5,000 of it in five Southern cities on expensive hotels and clothing and a new car.

The trio was under arrest here while agents searched in Denver for $125,000 of the bogus bills they are suspected of printing.

The three were identified as Joan St. Clair, 39, Miami Springs, Fla.; William L. Gardner, 31, Opa-Locka, and Farmer Calloway Thomas, 28, Miami. Opa-Locka and Miami Springs are suburbs of Miami.

Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman said Thomas got the counterfeit idea while working at his job with a Miami printing firm. Baughman said Thomas set up a press in the St. Clair woman's home and ran off about $250,000 in counterfeit $100 bills on the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Then the three set off on a trip that took them to New Orleans, La.; Jackson, Miss.; Little Rock, Ark.; Dallas, Tex.; Atlanta, Ga.; and Washington. Agents said they spent between $5,000 and $6,000, living in the best hotels and motels, buying expensive clothing and a new automobile.

Recover Second Stolen Car Used In Bank Robbery

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Police recovered the second stolen car used in Friday's $25,997 robbery of the LeMay Bank and Trust Co., but were still searching for the bandit today.

The FBI said the car was found abandoned Friday night at a South St. Louis intersection, but no trace of the lone gunman was found.

Some 40 persons were in the bank when the gunman leaped over a three-foot railing and told Asst. Cashier Robert J. Mulligan, "Take me to the money drawers."

He scooped the money from one of the bank cages into a paper sack and forced Mulligan to accompany him to the front door, warning: "Don't move until I get into my car."

Seconds after the robbery, the gunman wrecked his getaway car in a traffic accident. He abandoned it and stole another car driven by Mrs. Elmer Mrazek, 30, who had stopped for a stop sign.

It was the fifth bank holdup here and in eastern Missouri in the last four months. The loot obtained in the five holdups amounted to $117,236.

Hermann Field and Wife Enjoying Second Honeymoon

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Hermann Field, freed from a Communist prison after five years was in a second honeymoon with his wife Kate today, and friends speculated they would remain in Switzerland for a reunion with other members of the family.

Noel and Herta Field, Hermann's brother and sister-in-law, were recuperating from a similar experience in Budapest. Friends of the family speculated they would return to their childhood home here when they have recovered from their prison experiences.

Hermann Field disappeared five years ago while seeking Noel and Herta, who had vanished a few weeks earlier. Nothing official was known of their whereabouts until Communist Poland and Hungary suddenly announced they were releasing them from their "unjust" prison sentences.

Flyers Trip Centralia, 28-7, For 31 Straight

EAST ST. LOUIS 4P—The East St. Louis high school Flyers made it 31 straight Friday night by defeating Centralia high, 28-7, before 10,000 prep football fans at Parsons Field.

It was Centralia's first loss of the season. The Flyers' winning streak extends back to 1952. East St. Louis scored the first touchdown in the first quarter on a 44-yard run by quarterback Bob Cook, who also plunged for the extra point.

In the second quarter, junior halfback Walt Shankle ran 40 yards to score the second Flyer tally and a pass play netted the extra point.

The half ended with the Flyers in possession of the ball on the Orphans' five-yard line. The third quarter was scoreless.

Shankle scored his second touchdown early in the fourth quarter on a 14-yard run, and ran around right end for the extra point.

A Centralia fumble on their own 20-yard line set the stage for the Flyers' final marker. With less than 25 seconds remaining in the game, fullback Jack Purdy scored and Shankle again plunged for the extra point.

The Flyers rushed for 418 yards and lost 22, while the Orphans rushed for 171 yards and lost 52.

Trapped in Auto 15 Hours with Broken Leg

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP)—Willard S. Hartman, 39, Muscatine, Iowa, told today how he was trapped 15 hours with a broken leg in his automobile at the bottom of a steep embankment.

Hartman's car skidded on slippery pavement and went over the embankment on U. S. Highway 67 near here Thursday night.

Andrew Jackson's home was called "The Hermitage."

Rams' Defense Too Tight as Carrier Mills Wildcats Drop 61-53 Tilt

Face Another Tough Foe in Pinckneyville Tonight

A tight Mt. Vernon defense proved too difficult for Carrier Mills last night, as last year's state champion Rams edged out a 61-53 decision.

The Carrier Mills Wildcats, making their annual visit to the Ram gym, put up a terrific battle, rebounded well, played a good floor game and were deadly at the free throw line, but found the Mt. Vernon zone defense tough to break.

With Brookman leading the way, Mt. Vernon broke up the Cat passing attack time after time to keep down scoring from the field. However, Carrier Mills remained in the thick of things by swishing the nets 23 times on free tosses.

Carrier Mills' fans were also encouraged with the rebounding of their team. As expected, Oliver Rollins took care of his share of the rebounding, but he received lots of help from his teammates, who were doing a fine job against taller opponents.

The game was close throughout with Carrier Mills holding a small lead early in the fray and remaining in contention right down to the final horn.

The preliminary game resulted in a 64-38 Ram win.

Tonight Carrier Mills faces another 1954 state tournament finalist, playing at Pinckneyville, winner of third place in the last state meet.

The Panthers of Coach "Duster" Thomas are expected to be plenty tough again as a majority of last year's tournament squad were underclassmen.

Shawneetown Trips Galatia Bearcats, 69-36

Indians Take Early Lead to Gain Fourth Win

Shawneetown notched victory No. 4 last night at Galatia, giving the Bearcats one of their toughest opening season engagements in many years. The final score was Shawneetown 69, Galatia 36.

Inexperience and first night jitters, coupled with the fact Shawneetown's Indians had three performances under their belt and a vastly more experienced club, kept Galatia from actually getting into the contest.

With every man contributing to the scoring, Shawneetown eased into a 17-7 advantage the first quarter. And again in the second period with an all-around team showing, the Indians poured in 20 more points to Galatia 27. This gave the invader a wide 37-14 margin at halftime.

Although ragged passing hurt the Bearcats in the second half, the host aggregation checked the Shawneetown offensive somewhat. The Indians outscored them by five points in each of the last two periods.

Coach Sammy Miranda, in his debut at Galatia, saw the dead-eye Indians connect on 15 of 25 tries from the field in the opening half. It was this accuracy that helped Shawnee to the big halftime spread. Shawneetown shot a 491 for the entire fracas, caging 27 of 55 attempts from the field. Galatia hit a bare 300 with 15 of 50. At the 15-foot stripe, the Indians made 15 of 28 for a 536; Galatia hit 6 of 17 for 353.

Bobby Spottsville, Shawnee's ace rebounder who was injured in a game at Vienna last week, saw limited action. His replacement, Jack Drone, shoved in 15 points, proving once again that Coach Barney Genisio has a six-man team. Last night's scoring was a team affair for Shawneetown with four players breaking into the double figure column.

Despite their defeat, Galatia displayed signs of potential strength growing out of more actual contests and endeavor. The victory gave unbeaten Shawnee four straight in the Greater Egyptian Conference.

Ridgway, Equality, and Vienna Win Greater Egyptian Loop Contests

Ridgway, Equality and Vienna won Greater Egyptian conference ball games last night, defeating Pope Co., Rosiclare and Cave-in-Rock respectively.

It was the first defeat of the season for Cave, which fell before a hot Vienna five, 77-61. The defeat for Cave handed Shawneetown undisputed lead in the Greater Egyptian conference. Cave and Shawneetown will play next Tuesday night.

Ridgway staged a 21-point fourth quarter to overhaul invading Pope Co., 53-50. Pope led 12-10 at the quarter and 20-16 at halftime. During the third period, it appeared they might pull away from the Eagles, as they took a 40-32 lead at the end of the period.

State to Open Horseshoe Hunting Area Monday

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The Illinois Department of Conservation will open its public hunting area adjacent to the waterfowl refuge at Horseshoe Lake in Alexander county Monday, Nov. 22, it was announced here today.

First drawing for use of the 30 pits on the area will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday night, Nov. 21, at the information booth and field headquarters just off route 3 at the entrance to the refuge.

It will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Hunting on the state area will be limited to two men to a pit, and shooting will be permitted from 7 a. m. until 1 p. m.

Each hunter will be limited to one Canada goose.

There will be a use fee of $2 per hunter on the state area.

Game management officials in charge of the department's public area said today that the continued mild weather has delayed migration of the goose flock, many of which can still be found on northern lakes and refuges. There has been a steady, but slow increase in the flock since opening day of the season and a gradual increase in daily movement of the honkers using the refuge. For this reason, they said, it was decided to open the public area to hunters Monday, with anticipation of improved hunting conditions from day to day.

Last year during its first season of operation, this state area proved popular with many hunters, particularly those who did not care to bag more than a single goose.

Pierre Langlois Replaces Giardello As Olson Opponent

SAN FRANCISCO 4P — Pierre Langlois of France replaced Joey Giardello as champion (Bobo) Olson's opponent in the scheduled Dec. 15 middleweight title fight here after the bout almost wound up in moth balls.

Langlois Friday cabled from France that he would meet Olson for the crown and the offer immediately was snapped up by the International Boxing Club and promoter Bennie Ford while manager Sid Flaherty added that "Bobo was ready to defend his title anywhere against anybody."

Ford scratched Giardello from the fight Friday when the promoter was informed by IBC President Jim Norris that the Philadelphia's left knee had started to stiffen up following a workout.

Some torn ligaments had been removed from the knee in October.

Robert E. Lentz, Cairo, treasurer of the meeting was held at the Statler hotel in the Missouri room, with the banquet Wednesday night in the main ball room. Following the banquet entertainment was provided by various artists currently appearing in St. Louis.

Galatia Grade School Defeats Muddy, 52-17

Galatia's grade school quintet made it five victories in a row yesterday, stopping Muddy, 52-17, on the Muddy floor. The second team game was won by Muddy, 13-10.

Coach Menard Hawkins will take his unbeaten Galatia five to Broughton Monday.

Thanksgiving

The corn is drying in the fields . . . the sky overhead seems shades bluer than it has ever been before and the autumn air is a tonic, bracing and cool. And on this, the most American of all holidays, thoughts go back to the first Thanksgiving and what it really meant.

It was a bare bounty for which the Pilgrims knelt to thank God. Their harvest was not a rich one, they faced the prospect of a long, bleak winter to be followed by an uncertain Spring. But still, those who had survived the rigorous year just past were deeply thankful for all that they had . . . and did not dwell upon that which they had not.

It was their faith and the faith of others like them which has enabled our country to survive and flourish. Today, more than ever, we and our children need faith like that. We need to kneel in thanks for a bounty far richer than that known or dreamed of by the Pilgrims. In the church of our choice let each of us praise and thank Him for our blessings.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'God's Abundance For Man's Need'

Psalm 104:1-5, 10-11, 21, 33
GOLDEN TEXT: "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein." (Psalm 24:1)
INTRODUCTION: God is abundantly able to meet every need of our lives. People need to realize this today. It seems as if some folks live as if they never give God a thought. They seem to think that they are self-sufficient within themselves. They are leaving God out of all of their plans as well as out of all of their living. My! What such people are missing.

God owns all the earth and everything in it. He controls all things. Man has nothing that God cannot take away without a moment's notice. The most wealthy of men can have all his possessions taken away at once. The most powerful and influential among us can have all his power and influence removed in a moment. These thoughts should humble us.

It is wonderful to know God gives blessings, both material and spiritual, to His children who are obedient.
I. GOD CREATES AND UPHOLDS (V. 1-5)
Science is undergoing conversion. We who live today are seeing many learned scientists turn to God and Christianity. The time was when there was a clash between most leading scientists and the Bible. Today the leaders in this area of study are realizing that there is absolutely no clash between true science and God's Word. Why should there be? After all God created the earth and all things in it. Man has discovered what God has known all the time. In fact, man makes new discoveries only as God permits it.
This portion places God in His rightful place. It shows Him clothed with light, in majesty and honor, riding in the clouds and winds. "God is upholding all things," (v. 5) and "they shall not be moved forever." How thankful we should be for His hand that steadies this world. There is comfort in that thought.

II. GOD PROVIDES (V. 10-14)
Who provides for the birds of the air and the beasts of the field? Who gives the rain and sun and food and drink? God; and He alone does it!
Man does a great deal of planning and working in the field of agriculture. We are told that when the farmer has done all that he can do in raising a crop, God still has 95 per cent of the work to do. He furnishes the soil, the rain, the sun and the fertility. Without Him there would be no crop. Thousands of farmers found this out last summer.
The same God is able to meet our spiritual needs. He is able to satisfy our hearts and minds. He is ready to give a great spiritual harvest to His obedient children.
III. GOD IS WISE, RICH AND PRAISEWORTHY (V. 24, 33)
Those people who really know God have the "peace that passeth all understanding." They know the greatness and goodness of the God they serve. They are willing to place their whole future in His hands because they know He is wise, rich and worthy of all praise.
CONCLUSION: Do you need peace of mind? Are there problems besetting your life? Are you troubled? Have your plans all gone wrong? Do you have sorrows or burdens that weigh you down? Have you tried everything on earth, except Christ's way? Why not turn to Him? Christ is the answer to every problem of your life.
